Hey. I'm Zubin

DATA PRACTITIONER, ASPIRING TECHNOLOGIST AND ALL-ROUND NERD

Focused on my start-up in Berlin but still manage to blog about career, code, data, and design. All my links are collected on the page below.

Design with Purpose

EMPATHY IN EVERY PIXEL

Saumya crafts user experiences that blend functionality with aesthetics. With a strong background in UX design, she thrives on solving complex problems with a user-centric approach. Passionate about creating meaningful connections, Saum's work is rooted in empathy and innovation, always aiming to make a lasting impact.

LIKE EVERY OTHER BORING TECH DUO WE ALSO BLOG ABOUT TRAVEL

A family-postcard selfie with the backdrop of the Marble Mountains, found in central Vietnam, a short excursion from Da Nang or Hoi An.

CROSS-COLLABORATION

We are a community-minded, hobby software studio based out of Berlin.

We are most passionate about projects at the intersection of design and emergent technologies (think AI & ML)

Get in touch if you would like to have a coffee chat about the same.

You can find us on a couple different socials:
